Mission Control, an exciting new approach to performance, providing a dramatic increase in productivity and effectiveness for individuals and teams.
Life is fast and complex
The pace of work is accelerating, leaving many of us with the experience of being overwhelmed, burdened, frustrated and stressed. We’re bombarded with information, working to impossible deadlines, and overloaded with ever increasing expectations. No matter how well organised we are, effectively dealing with all we have to do and handle often seems impossible. The tools that were developed more than 30 years ago are simply insufficient for today’s work demands.

Be immediately more productive with new perspectives, tools and practices
In Mission Control workshops and training programs, you begin to be aware of the unseen self-imposed limitations to your own productivity and performance. You are equipped with new perspectives and learn how to build new work habits for dealing powerfully with the flood of tasks, activities, challenges, and opportunities that come at you daily. These new perspectives and work habits will leave you more focused, confident, and effective.

Six new tools
You’ll get six new tools with accompanying work practices that enable you to manage everything there is for you to do and handle. While these practices are specifically for work they will impact you holistically giving you access to everything in your life being handled all of the time. Using the Mission Control system, you’ll be able to focus completely on what is in front of you, bringing all of your intelligence, creativity, and natural ability to your work.

Using Mission Control’s innovative principles, tools, and practices, you’ll find yourself accomplishing what is most important to you while being more productive and effective; your stress is significantly reduced and your sense of satisfaction and work/life balance returns.

Producing results
Ultimately our performance, productivity and effectiveness are a function of what we do and what we don’t do. Mission Control programs are designed to impact what you are doing and consequently the results you are producing. Our clients have generated new levels of results in areas such as:

- Achievement of project milestones with tight schedules and restricted resources
- Enhanced sales performance, with dramatic increases in conversion rate and average sale
- Reduced cycle time for product development
- Significantly elevated customer satisfaction scores

In addition to a direct effect on business results, clients also report impact in how they are operating, including:

- Recovered time each week – up to and even exceeding ten hours per week
- Reduced time on email and in meetings – cutting time spent by 50% and more
- Accomplishing what they set out to accomplish
- Being more purposeful
- Reduction of stress and overwhelm
- Being less distracted
- Greater clarity on what is important to accomplish

A design that fits your needs
Mission Control programs for individual and team performance are available in a variety of structures and formats: in person and online, instructor led and self-paced, done in one session and spread out over several sessions. We work with our clients to customise a solution that most effectively realises the desired benefit for the business and for the individuals participating in the program.
What People Are Saying

“I’m amazed by the sense of accomplishment that I have realized from using Mission Control. Before, when I was at work, I was multitasking and working hard, yet at the end of the day I lost track of what I had completed. Now, I know what I’m going to do on a particular day, and I get it done. I also have time to focus on one thing at a time and give it 100% of my effort, with a higher quality output. It’s awesome.”

David Rose, Manager of Standard Products & Tools, Metrowerks, a subsidiary of Motorola

“Since taking Mission Control, I’ve had a 100% increase in productivity. I now have control over my work and I’m working on the things that truly make a difference for my company. And, my peace of mind has increased because I am able to be truthful about when things are going to be done. Now if I say it is going to be done, it’s done. It’s priceless.”
